

LOWER MAKEFIELD TOWNSHIP

BUCKS COUNTY • PENNSYLVANIA

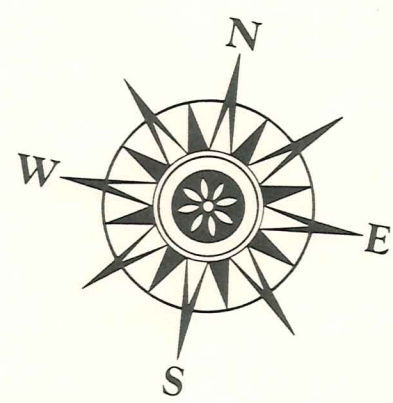

HISTORICAL MAP

1798

This map of Lower Makefield Township has been reconstructed from the United States House Tax List of 1798 and contemporary deeds and surveys. It encompasses both the present day township of Lower Makefield and the borough of Yardley which did not separate from the township until 1895.

Each landowner is shown together with the number of acres except for small holdings which are given in the table of numbered lots. Lessees are shown in parentheses together with acres of leased land. The acreage of individuals does not always conform precisely with the tax list due to variations in surveys and estimates used for tax purposes. All parcels of land contained a house as enumerated in the tax list except those designated as vacant. The houses standing in 1798 are not necessarily standing in 1988 and no attempt has been made to identify them. This is not a legal map.

The historical map in dark ink overlays a modern street map in light ink to establish a cross reference between 1798 and 1988. The street map has been used with the permission of Lower Makefield Township and the historical map has been prepared by Ralph N. Thompson, Director of Research, Lower Makefield Historical Society.
